Teachers settle for 6 per cent pay increase

Haliburton - The Haliburton County Board of Education and the secondary school teachers have agreed on a contract which will give the teachers a 5.7 per cent increase on the salary grid and about 6 per cent with benefits.

Both groups agreed unanimously to the contract which runs from Sept. 1, 1977 to Sept. 1, 1978.

Len Salvatori, head of the Board's negotiating team said that the Board agreed on the contract in a special meeting Monday night.

Bob Penfold, head negotiator for the 43 secondary school teachers said that the teachers voted on the contract last Thursday.

The teachers had turned down a contract proposal in an earlier vote and in a still earlier vote they registered a tie.

The new contract means that a teacher at the bottom of the pay scale will make $11,395 per year and a teacher at the top of the scale will make $24,787 per year. A figure of $16,690 was given as something close to the average.

In a joint statement both Mr. Penfold and Trustee Salvatori pointed out that a teacher's classification would depend on qualifications and experience.

In the statement it points out that the new contract includes everything in the previous contract plus a grievance clause, a 5.7 per cent increase for every position on the salary grid, a 5.7 per cent increase for the principal and vice principal, a 5.7 per cent increase on allowances for department heads, an increase in the Board's contribution to OHIP from 66-2/3 per cent to 75 per cent, an increase in the Board's contribution to a group life plan from 33-1/3 per cent to 66-2/3 per cent, and a COLA clause triggering at eight per cent.

The increase brings the principal's salary now to $33,422.34 and the vice principal's salary to $29,384.60.

The major department heads will receive a $2,114 allowance while the minor department heads are to receive an allowance of $1,585.50.

Only 3 accidents investigated during the week

Minden - Members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated only three motor vehicle accidents and 74 occurrences during the week of Sept. 19 to 25.

During that time there were five break-ins reported and three persons charged with liquor violations.

A single car accident, Sept. 24, on North Twelve Mile Lake Road, sent two persons to hospital with major injuries.

The OPP report that a car driven by Norman Craven, 17, of R.R. 2, Stouffville, was southbound when it struck a tree in the east ditch.

Craven and a passenger in the car, William J. Child, 16, of R.R. 2, Stouffville, were injured in the crash.

The accident took place at 9:45 p.m. and the two injured persons were taken away by the Minden ambulance service.

There was $2,000 damage to the car.

A single car accident on Lutterworth Township Road, Sept. 25, resulted in $375 damage.

The OPP report that a car driven by John B. Glancy, 22, of Scarborough, was westbound when it entered the north ditch and struck a fence.

The accident took place at 2 a.m.

The Minden Fire Hall was officially opened last week at an area mutual aid meeting. The fire hall, which has been in use for some time, was opened by a number of area dignitaries including Victoria-Haliburton MPP, Bill Scott; Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve, Reg Booth; and Victoria-Haliburton MPP, John Eakins. A number of county and municipal representatives were on hand for the opening, as well.

New Minden Fire Hall was 25 years in the making

Minden - It has taken Anson, Hindon and Minden 25 years to get to the stage of having a new fire hall with the facilities of the one in Minden according to Reeve, Reg Booth.

Reeve Booth was speaking at the official opening of the new fire hall last week. The opening was held at a mutual aid meeting for the area.

Reeve Booth said that in about 1948 the local businessmen's association had a little pump that didn't work and that is what constituted Minden's fire protection.

He noted that after a while the council at that time gave them $150 to improve the service.

It was 1951 when the fire protection in Minden really got going according to the reeve. He said that that year a fire truck was purchased from Gravenhurst and the fire department really got underway.

Reeve Booth said the new facilities are excellent and pointed out that the council was able to spend the money with only a few minor objections from ratepayers.

Among the guests at the opening ceremonies were Bill Scott, MP Victoria-Haliburton, John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton, Reeve, Reg Booth and his council, Bob Vick, Warden of Haliburton County, Pat Conaghan, the Reeve of Lutterworth, Bert Shingler, Deputy Reeve of Lutterworth and Reeve Fearrey of Dysart et al.

MP Scott said that the building was a credit to the municipality and congratulated the people involved.

MPP Eakins talked about the virtues of volunteers in such things as fire protection.

Large crowd attends the Festacolor dance

Haliburton - The Haliburton Kinsmen had their first chance at running the annual Festacolor and according to a club member, the event turned out quite well.

A dance, featuring two bands, on Saturday night, highlighted the day long event which started early in the afternoon with a beer garden.

One thing that didn't turn out too well was the outside activity planned at the park. The Kinsmen had hoped to have a number of events for people to participate in but the tug-of-war was one of the few which turned out very well.

The LaRue Motors tug-of-war team came out on top in the championship division, defeating Haliburton Kinsmen in the finals, in a match which lasted for four or five minutes.

Kinsmen make two donations

The Haliburton Kinsmen have made donations of $100 to the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association and $150 to The Boy Scouts.

In the consolation division it was The Haliburton County Echo taking top spot with a win in the finals over the Minden Kinsmen.

Plans underway for Autumnfest

Wilberforce - Plans are well underway for Autumnfest '77 to be held in Wilberforce, October 8 and 9.

This year's Autumnfest, to raise money for the building of a new arena, will be held in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre and at the fire hall.

On October 8, at 1 p.m., there will be a bake sale and flea market, helicopter rides which will give everyone the opportunity to see the beauty of the colors of the leaves from the air, and a beer garden.

The beer garden will feature a five man oompah band which will entertain all afternoon. An Octoberfest smorgasbord will also be served.

At 9 p.m., on October 8, the Autumnfest ball will be held, featuring the Continentals. A smorgasbord will be served all evening.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the draw for a lakeshore lot.

On Sunday, at 2 p.m., the wagonwheel jamboree will be held featuring the best in country and western entertainment, including Roy MacCaul and the Ontario Champion yodeller, Bill Woodward.

Also appearing will be Wheel recording artists Murray Gartschore, Bill Taylor, Marg Graham, Carl Leitch, Lennie McGuire, Kathy Jean and Tommy Mark.

Music will be supplied by The Log Cabin Boys.

Work on sewers is expected to start Monday in Haliburton

Haliburton - Construction will begin on the second phase of Haliburton Village sewers on Monday.

Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey said that the Ministry of Environment officially awarded the contract to Tripp Construction of Oshawa, last Monday. Tripp Construction presently has crews in Haliburton County working on the sewer project in Minden.

Reeve Fearrey said that the second phase of the sewers will cost $1,358,381, with most of that being handled by the Ministry of Environment.

He said that the contract has been awarded for 52 weeks.

When asked how much work would be done this year, Reeve Fearrey said that there is no indication how much work can be done in the winter.

He said though that he anticipates that the construction will run at least until Christmas and perhaps even longer.

Final contract is awarded on Minden's sewers

Minden - The contract on the final stage of Minden's sewer project has been awarded to Tripp Construction of Oshawa.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Clerk-Treasurer, Richard Parisotto, told The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder that he has received word from the Ministry of Environment that the contract for building of the treatment plant was awarded to Tripp and the construction will cost $1,259,369.

Mr. Parisotto said that this means there are no more outstanding contracts on the entire Minden sewer project and that all of the work has either been started, or at least awarded.

He pointed out that Minden will finally get its sewers after first applying in the late 1950's. Mr. Parisotto said that the planning for the present project got underway in 1969.

Zamboni damaged in arena break-in Haliburton - The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is investigating a break-in at the Dysart Community Centre in which the new Zamboni ice machine was damaged.

The OPP report that the building was entered on Sept. 20 or Sept. 21 during the night.

The door was forced open and a saw and microphone were stolen. The Zamboni received damage to the front shield, headlights, seat and was spray painted.

The police estimated the damages to be $210 and the theft at $146.

Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

The Haliburton Kinsmen gave it everything they had in the Festacolor tug-of-war on Saturday afternoon but as the saying goes, everything wasn't good enough and the team ended up finalists, losing to LaRue Motors.

Peggy Neville "sang up a storm" at Extencicare's Settler's Night held last Friday. Accompanying Peggy was Ray Jenkins on the piano. The evening featured a great deal of entertainment for residents and visitors of Extencicare.

Action at Kinmount ball park

It was action and excitement on Sunday at the ball park in Kinmount once we got the teams together. Fathers and sons teamed up with or against each other, as many regular players didn't show. Reg McCluney teamed up with young Bill for Somerville. Ken Young teamed up with Scott and Ken Jr. for Galway, with son Tom as manager. He must have been the manager as he managed to keep two young ladies, Janice Woolfrey and Donna Hill interested in keeping the pitcher supplied with extra balls.

Luther Crego played for Galway. Joe Crego for Somerville, now that's sportsmanship. Young Dave Preston does not want the prestige of batboy, but willingly chases balls that land in the bushes, which are mostly fouls that his father, Merv Preston, is hitting. Merv's father-in-law, Harry Stuart, umpired first base. Speaking of umpires, we had Leon Wright with us this game, and he calls them as he sees 'em. We are still going through umpires quite rapidly. Percy Sherman and our last umpire lined up on Percy's porch again to keep everyone on their toes. Leon looks like he might stay with us awhile, but I also noticed an empty chair on Percy's porch, so I guess it's a wait and see. Maybe we don't treat them right!

Pitcher, Merv Preston, got rid of his headache, he struck out Guy Scott, but just once. Guy puts on a fine show and packs a whallop of a hit, the outfield seems to know it. They back up towards Father Hart's garden. Father Hart's chickens weren't as evident as in past games. I guess scrambled eggs aren't going over as well as his creamed corn.

The wives are pretty evident at the games. Mrs. Barkwell, Mrs. Crego and Mrs. Franzen with the twins appear to be directing the nursery, which they have smartly re-located to the far outfield. They have quite a following and promising new talent seems to be showing up. We had an 18 month old catcher of a flyball, but wouldn't release it to Ken Young, but he picked it up again, threw it to Ken and game continued. Shirley "hen-scratchin'" Preston is keeping score, and Ida Young runs the pop and chip concession. Shirley and Ida had a foul ball coming at them and hastily retreated, leaving the chips and pop behind. Frank Franzen, Galway's catcher, came thundering through to catch it, people were a little distressed with the mutilated chips.

Home base is giving up a few problems, as it is surrounded with peaks and valleys. This either heightens or shortens the players depending on where they stand. Joe

Radiation survey office is closed

Bill Scott, MP for the riding of Victoria-Haliburton has learned that the Atomic Energy Control Board of Canada has closed its temporary radiation survey office in Bancroft but will re-open it after a consulting firm has been commissioned to conduct a detailed investigation and program of needed remedial work in the area.

Assessing this year's tourist activity in the Highlands

Now with the immediate rush of the tourist season over is an ideal time to assess what has happened this year. Those in the tourism business should assess not only their performance this year, but also that of Ontario and Canada in what is becoming a very difficult market.

As with any segment of business, some fare better than others. Operators in Haliburton County were no different than the rest of their Canadian counterparts. Some operators showed a strong year in terms of traffic while others continued their downward trend of the last few years. The obvious question that must be asked, and asking is part of the solution, is why?

There is no doubt that the number of travellers entering Canada and Ontario is well below the number that are leaving. Both Stat Can and the Ministry of Industry and Tourism show a continuing increase in our international trade deficit as concerns tourism. Again, the question has to be raised to solve the problem...why?

There is no single factor that accounts for all of the problems but one factor does loom larger than the rest. Travellers are becoming more destination oriented. The gypsy traveller of a number of years ago, who spent his vacation touring say, Central Ontario, is becoming extinct. As he goes, so goes the small motels and overnight cabins that catered to that trade.

In choosing their destinations, vacationers are becoming not just price conscious, but value conscious. The sophisticated traveller today no longer wants just "pretty scenery and a quiet spot"...he now demands first class accommodation, saunas, tennis courts, golf and a whole host of activity facilities.

The sad matter of the truth is that in many cases Ontario operators are not competitive on an international scale. And that is where they have to compete...internationally, with Florida, Britain and the Disney Land's of the world.

An honest appraisal will show that operators who have made capital improvements to their facilities over the years, who have offered value for their customers' expenditures and have properly marketed those facilities, fared better than their neighbours who decided they couldn't afford to update and improve. People will pay a higher price, provided they get a better product.

What is needed is an enormous increase in expenditure on the actual tourist plant; in providing better accommodation and recreation facilities. Yet how can the individual operator be blamed for not making these expenditures. Interest rates for capital improvements will cost him between 12 and 14 per cent in a business that more often than not returns far less than that to the operator.

Both the federal and provincial governments should return some of the literally billions of dollars in profits that they have reaped from the industry by making available to the right operators, funds to undertake capital improvements at a rate that operators can afford. It's time for government to put some money back into the business.

Conservation Authority has to help Haliburton

A proposed conservation authority for Victoria and Haliburton Counties and the Regional Municipality of Durham will have to be of great benefit to the people of Haliburton or we just don't want it.

The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder agree with county officials when they turned down the proposal for the time being.

Perhaps these people, the Kawartha Conservation Study Group, should come up with some concrete proposals about what can be done and what should be done in Haliburton County? Perhaps our county officials should, to show the good faith of the people involved, demand that the first conservation authority park be built somewhere within Haliburton.

Certainly a conservation authority will be of benefit to the watershed in the Kawartha, Haliburton areas. Certainly there is the possibility of building parks, recreation areas and working to keep the water clean.

We agree that there is a place for this type of operation but we also find that Haliburton County has to enter these projects with caution or not at all if we aren't getting what we want, for fear that the larger municipalities and population areas will rule over us.

If the Kawartha Conservation Authority ever gets off the ground, we hope the organizers and first members have the insight not to give the first visible benefits to Lindsay because that just wouldn't sit too well with the rest of us.

Feir Play

This appears to be the age of gloom and doom. Everyone seems to be worried over the state of the economy. We have to wonder just how bad or good it really is. Recently some of the experts on the economy tell us that it's not bad as it seems on the surface. All it takes is for some person, or persons, to spread the word that we are in for rough times and everyone starts to tighten their belts and stop spending money. When people do this it makes it bad for the business community and we seem to run into more unemployment. At the present time the majority of citizens in Haliburton County seem to be bracing themselves for a tough winter. Elected municipal officials are worried about how many people will be out of work in the county this winter. We like to look on the brighter side of things and we are hoping for some local projects to get underway that will help us out considerably. We may be wrong and we hope that we are not, but we don't think that this winter will be any worse than those in the past. If we are continually going to talk gloom and doom, this is what we are going to have. Let's look on the brighter side of things and put on a happy smile. In other words, have a good day.

The grand opening of the new fire hall, in Minden, was held last Tuesday evening and it was a big event which was attended by firemen from other fire departments throughout the county, members of the various municipal councils in the area and also present were John Eakins, MPP, and Bill Scott, MP. In other words, it was a doubleheader with the opening of the new fire hall and a mutual aid meeting.

We have just received word that the winner of the KENNISIS Lake Snowmobile Association "Limited Edition Draw" for a trip to England, which was drawn on Sept. 17, was Mr. Sid Mills of 92 Oakcrest Ave., Toronto.

The Senior Citizens are quite pleased to know that they will soon be moving into the auditorium at the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton. This is a splendid move and they will now have a drop-in centre with all the facilities. The building is centrally located and we are really pleased to see that they have finally located a spot for a drop-in centre.

We are really pleased to note that the Dysart Arena Fund is coming close to reaching its objective of $25,000. It is also gratifying to see that the local cottagers are also pitching in and donating to this most worthy cause. It would appear that the letter sent out with the tax bills is really paying off.

Color bus tours from various parts of Ontario will soon be coming through the Highlands of Haliburton. Please make these people welcome when they arrive in your vicinity and let's show them some of our great Highlands hospitality.

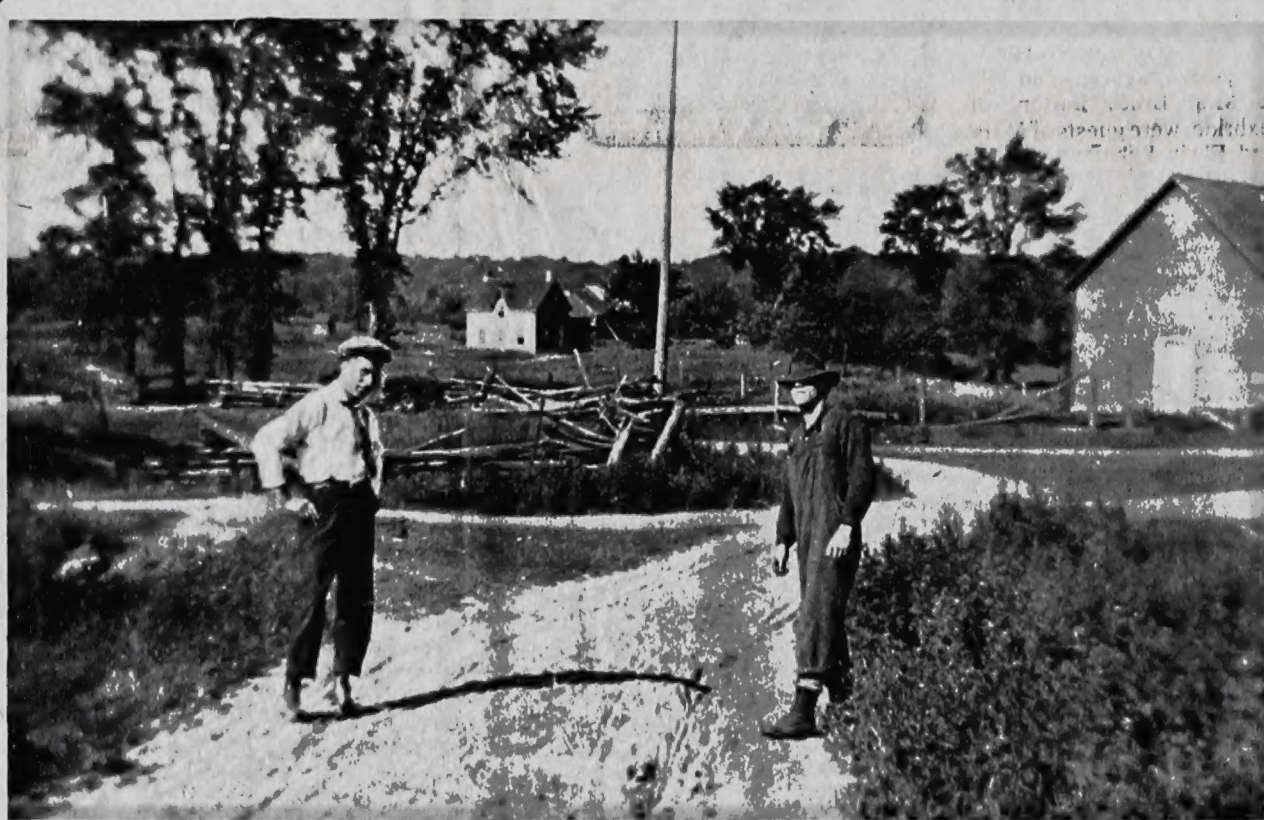

Registration was held last Friday for the Beavers, Cubs and Venturers at St. Paul's Anglican Church, in Minden. The Boy Scouts will register at the first Scout meeting to be held tonight, Sept. 28, at 7:00 p.m.

We were always of the opinion that the Town of Lindsay seemed to be lagging behind compared with other centres in Ontario. But we were told this week that things are really booming in Lindsay and they are really going ahead.

It happens every so often in the captions under the photos of our Pic of the Past that we have school photos or other group pictures and sometimes those that submit them are unable to give us the names of certain people shown. This is bound to happen because it takes a person with a good memory to remember years back and pick out everyone in the picture. What we do in cases like this is leave a blank. It will really help us out and we think that you as readers of our newspaper will have a lot of fun trying to see just who these people are. So when we print another picture and you see that some names are missing, please send us a letter or give us a call. We will be glad to hear from you.

If you would like to express your opinion on any matter, especially on local issues, why not sit down and write a letter to the editor in care of this newspaper. We are really glad to get these letters and our readers really like to see them. There's only one point that we wish to stress and this is the fact that you sign your name at the bottom of the letter.

When it comes to hockey, whether we like it or not, there is a lesson to be learned from the Russian style of play. Instead of the stand him up and knock him down and shoot it into the oppositions end and chase in after it style of play by the N.H.L., we must get down to the smooth passing game once again that the fans enjoy. Now that the hockey season will soon be with us we hope that the coaches in minor hockey will take a few tips and change their style of coaching.

Editor's Notebook

It doesn't take long for information to get a little distorted after it is second hand.

We had some complaints last week that we didn't cover the real story at the meeting held at the Haliburton Legion over the water levels in the reservoir lakes.

I understand that one person suggested that we should have had the story on the shouting and the unruly manner in which the people conducted themselves at the meeting.

Anyway, for those of us fortunate to have been at the meeting, we will remember that there was no shouting, that the people did not get unruly, and that by and large, everything went off quite smoothly.

I, for one, expected the meeting to be a little more vocal and expected people to get out of hand a little, but that just didn't happen despite what some of the stories going around town are saying.

Everything can go back to normal at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The teachers and the board have agreed on a contract. In a small area (population wise) a wage dispute between a Board of Education and the teachers is a big issue.

How many people realize that the Haliburton County Board of Education has the highest payroll in the county? How many realize that a great deal of our taxes, municipal and provincial, go towards education?

The Kinsmen got their first taste of running Festacolor and got a break on Saturday morning when everyone woke up to sunny skies.

For those of you who like to know what you missed on the weekend, the Stanhope Fire Department held a dance on Saturday night and Extencicare took on the flavor of an Old English Pub on Friday night for Settlers Night.

The Extencicare party was one of the highlights of the weekend for me. It was a well planned affair with lots of entertainment and things to do and see.

Worse traffic jams then one at the Kinmount Fair

Dear Sir:

Firstly, may I compliment you on producing and circulating a newspaper that is a very definite credit to the municipalities it serves.

Upon reading the issue of Sept. 14 I found myself somewhat concerned about the editorial "Traffic a Problem of Kinmount Fair." I have been interested in Kinmount Fair for many years. During all that time we have been striving to accomplish about the same kind of result for which you aim in the production of your newspaper, that is to produce a better, more attractive, more informative and more enjoyable Country Fair. If the increasing public acceptance and attendance is any criterion, I think it can be said, without fear of successful contradiction, that we are succeeding, just as you have succeeded with your newspaper. This year, as on many past occasions, the conditions that combine to make the Fair a success were all favorable and, as a result, large crowds were attracted to Kinmount from a very wide area. This naturally made the highways very busy and, according to your editorial opinion, made "Traffic a Problem of Kinmount Fair."

I have travelled the highways in our province for many years. On more than one occasion I have been brought to a standstill by the traffic streaming away from Mosport when a race meet was over. Similarly, I, like hundreds of others, have moved along the highway at a snail's pace for miles, at various locations in Ontario, on occasions when the traffic was either converging on or leaving the International Plowing Match. The Canadian National Exhibition, the Blue Jay Games and many events attended and enjoyed by great numbers of people all continue to be the reason for traffic tie-ups and, regrettably, inconvenience at times for the travelling public. Indeed, a most recent instance was an Argo game at C.N.E. stadium when hundreds of fans were tied up and abandoned cars and finally only getting to see the last half. (Toronto Star headline article Sept. 19 issue).

Kinmount Fair brought many people some considerable distances to be in the area and this must have brought benefits to businesses along the way. I really seriously question that business was "slowed to a walk" anywhere because of Kinmount Fair. I note from the columns of your same issue that, perhaps, it could be said that business was not helped by the fact that an exceedingly dry summer created accompanying water level problems, and further, in the same issue of your paper there appears a comment which, in brief, points a critical finger at the effects of Haliburton area gasoline prices. Perhaps we should be reminded that if business is dull next winter, some may be secretly praying for a traffic heavy enough to be tied up a little.

Believe me, with respect to Kinmount Fair, we have given the matter more than a little thought and have made changes over recent years which were aimed at doing the best we could for the problem. The problem, however, is, I suggest, not "a Problem of Kinmount Fair" but is a problem of modern society in Ontario. Good cars, good roads and a population that moves in an ever widening field of interest are the real contributing factors of the problem.

It has been said that the late, great, Henry Ford once opined "that it doesn't matter what they are saying about us as long as they are talking about us." In that sense I must thank you for the editorial mention even if not very complimentary to our cause.

M.W. "Monty" Robson, President 1977, Kinmount Agricultural Society.

Pleased with coverage of the Corduroy Enduro

Jim Badgley:

Yesterday I was shown a copy of the Haliburton County Echo with some information about the Corduroy Enduro, in which I participated. I was happy to see this coverage and I'm looking forward to riding the event again this coming year.

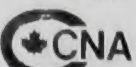

I was surprised to find that so many people were involved in serious accidents and hope they are all healing. I would like to know if it is possible to get pages 1-10 for my scrapbook or just the cover section and the two write-ups, including pictures. Please send me information on this.

Also, I rode quite hard that weekend and accumulated only a few points and had the best times in Sunday special events, good enough that I won the Junior Medium Class. I was very disappointed to see another name in my place as I really worked hard for this win. I also realize mistakes happen and would urge you to check the results to see if this could be corrected.

Thanks very much for your time.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote in asking what you thought of people who still had their Christmas tree up in May. He suggested that perhaps the men in the white coats carrying butterfly nets should be called. I'm glad you didn't join in and ridicule the people whose tree was still up because ours has been up longer than theirs.

My husband disappeared on December 22nd, 1975, and no one has heard a word from him since. He helped me put up our Christmas tree on the 20th of December, and our kids (now 6, 9 and 10) keep begging me not to take the tree down "until Daddy comes home."

It's still up. My hopes are fading, but you know how kids are—they never give up, God bless them.

DEAR CRIED: If prayers will help, be assured you have mine.

DEAR ABBY: Seeing that you answer everything from A to Z, I was wondering if you'd stop at "D" for dogs. I have a problem with mine. He's an 8-month-old shepherd—a terrific dog, but I can't seem to housebreak him.

He is not dumb, but I can't seem to get the idea across to him that he has to wait until someone lets him out. Abby, I have read dog books and followed every suggestion in the book, from rubbing his nose in the mess to spanking him within an inch of his life, but nothing has worked for me.

I hope you'll print this because there must be a way to housebreak a dog that works, even though it's not in a book.

DESPAIRING: My canine consultant suggests that you establish a "routine" by walking your dog at set times of the day. If he does what he's supposed to do where he's supposed to do it, reward him with a treat. And if he messes in the house, scold him in a harsh tone and "show" him why you are displeased. He'll catch on.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for trying to educate the public concerning the handicapped.

My wife and I are both deaf and mute (please, not "deaf and dumb") and we use sign language to communicate with each other.

The reaction of some uninformed people we encounter in places of business would astonish you.

I'd like to repeat a very old, but true story to make my point. One afternoon two fine Boston gentlemen were hanging onto the straps of a trolley. Below them were seated two deaf-mutes, conversing in sign language.

One of the straphangers whispered to his friend, "I'm curious about something," whereupon he took a note pad and pencil from his pocket and wrote, "CAN YOU WRITE?" Then he handed it to one of the deaf-mutes, who, after studying it carefully, slowly drew from his pocket an elegant, expensive fountain pen, emerald in color and trimmed in gold. Then, with a grand flourish, he penned a few words on the note pad and handed it back to the standing gentleman.

Imagine their chagrin when they read in exquisite penmanship: "CAN YOU READ?"

retreat September 9, 10, 11. The theme speakers were the Rev. Mac Freeman and Mr. Ron Kennedy. They led 245 women in a sharing experience on the subject: "Understanding our Faith." Together they brought us to a realization of what it means to be human; their very working and sharing together brought us closer to the humanness we all need. Mrs. B. J. Klassen led us in early morning worship on the subject: "Risking our Faith: to Believe and to Doubt." This worship set well the mood for our speakers to share their faith.

This was the first time for half the ladies present to attend this annual school for leaders. By Presbyterians the attendance was: Belleville 63; Cobourg 34; Kingston 53; Lindsay 24; Oshawa 30; Peterborough 27; Renfrew 15; total 250. The offerings amounted to $347.50 and was given to six concerns of the United Church. This work was well presented by the different Presbyterian groups in skits on Friday evening. Book sales amounted to $1,800.

Our Dean, Mrs. Glen Howes of Parham, kept the school at a high level of spiritual awareness. Mrs. Cecil Brown of Belleville led us in songs both new and old. The counsellors of the Summer Camps assembled Friday evening to share with us what camp had meant to them during the summer. In the evening they entertained the school with a delightful campfire program.

Sunday afternoon 250 women of the church made their way to their respective homes with renewed faith and a new understanding of their humanness. Many were resolved to return to next year's school under the new dean, Mrs. Marion Wellman.

any given area. The article notes that in years past it was certain re-election for the local MP who could stand in his home riding and announce that "Yes, this local riding has been chosen as a prison site." At one time any region hungry for government employment and spending in their area would welcome such an announcement by their local MP. This seemed to be the situation up until a couple of months ago when Larry Condon, MP for Lambton, triumphantly returned home with what he thought was a goodie, and it was: but not to his local constituents who lived in the locale of the proposed prison.

Charlie Turner, another local Liberal MP wouldn't be trapped. He took a wait and see attitude, better to be late than appear on the wrong side. Then Oxford P.C. member, Dr. Bruce Haliday, got into the act. "Put it in my riding" he said. Yarmouth Township council shyed away from a suggestion that the federal government should buy a local owners property for the lock up, and just forwarded a letter making the site available without endorsing it. John Wise, MP for that area was quick off the mark suggesting that the proposed site would require the endorsement of local people before he would comment on it. Somewhere in the midst of the foregoing reported in this article, our MP, Bill Scott, also got a plug in there for Haliburton-Victoria riding as a possible site.

It is certainly true that the acquisition of a prison site in your riding is not as big a political plum as it used to be, but let's face it, we're not in a position to be that fussy. We would certainly have to think that if Mr. Scott can bring such a thing to Haliburton County the positive effect that it would have on our economy would bring nothing but appreciation to Bill for his efforts from the majority of his constituents.

There is bound to be a great number of view points on something like this, depending on where the individual is sitting. The cottage owner, of course, can rightfully be opposed to anything of this nature, and anything to do with industry or more development. He bought his property here to get away from all that, and has little or no concern about our economy or how we manage to make a living. There are also the "Haves" and "Have nots" living within the community, and some of the "haves" are not longer concerned with how the "have nots" live. Then there are the rest of us that worry. If we're not worrying about ourselves, we're worrying about whether the economy will support our children when they grown up and seek employment. The viewpoint from each of these groups, of course, is valid, providing they are each giving consideration to the others problems and feelings.

A special edition of the WigWam has just been produced, which is the regular publication of the Algonquin Region of the Ministry of Natural Resources. Minden region forms the central part of this area, which stretches from Parry Sound to Pembroke. This issue features a map of the entire region showing the canoe routes that are available. At a glance our area is certainly the most highly developed for this recreational activity and our local Natural Resources office is certainly to be congratulated for their foresight. Anyone viewing this map would not hesitate to head into our area before considering any other location in the Algonquin Region.

The Chamber was in touch with Don White at the Ministry Office following last Sunday's meeting in regard to the fluctuation of water levels. Don has promised to have his staff check into the effect on fish and wildlife that would result from the intended additional lowering of water levels this winter that the Trent-Severn authorities insist is necessary.

The disastrous weather that literally killed our tourist industry in August continues to plague us. The Chamber has desperately been trying to arrange for fine weather this fall to make up the deficit suffered in August, but to no avail. Even when we do get some nice weather such as Saturday, the forecasts are for the opposite, which has almost the same effect as if the weather were as bad as anticipated. It was encouraging, however, to note that the Welcome Centre at Minden had its busiest Saturday since the middle of August. We know those tourists are out there and are just dying to come and visit us, and if we just had a little nice weather and some water in our lakes, we know they'd join us.

We are pleased to announce that Jim McLean of Air Haliburton Ltd., Ed Elias of Lorealea Lodge, Don Wolfram of Complete Decorating Service, and Bill Smith of Elephant Lake Lodge, have all accepted nominations to be new directors of the Chamber of Commerce. They all look forward to meeting you at the Annual Meeting on October 12. Have you got your tickets yet?

3 per cent loss in storage last week

Storage losses of 3 per cent over the last week have left the reservoirs with 39 per cent of maximum storage remaining on Sept. 19. Outflows from all reservoirs have been maintained near minimum values.

The wet weather over the Kawartha Lakes area, combined with maintaining minimum outflows down the Otonabee River, has kept the Kawartha Lakes near their maximum navigation levels, even while maintaining near minimum flows from the Northern Reservoirs.

The rainfall in the Haliburton area during August and September has been sufficient to reduce storage losses but not enough to actually raise the lake levels. Most of the rainfall has been in small amounts each day, and this is mostly absorbed by the ground as it falls, never reaching the lakes. This type of rainfall is good for raising the ground water table and hopefully bringing levels up in area wells.

Waterway crews in the Central Area are improving the aids to navigation in the vicinity of Rottenstone Island on Buckhorn Lake. They are pouring new bases and placing larger 2 mile beacons, which should make navigation easier for users of the system and local residents.

Maria Street bridge in Peterborough is closed, so that new decking can be put on by a contractor. It is expected to be closed for about 2 weeks.

Motorists using the Carrying Place Bridge over the Murray Canal should note that a 5 ton load limit has been placed on the bridge until further notice.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

From September 12 to 16, the Canadian Conference of Legislative Ombudsmen was held at the Sheraton Centre in Toronto, on the initiative of Arthur Maloney, the Provincial Ombudsman for Ontario.

Former Canadian Finance Minister, John Turner, chaired the session of the Conference which was

Echoes of the Past

September, 1976:

An action committee was formed at the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association forum held Monday to discuss the possible re-opening of the Whitney snowmobile trail through Algonquin Park.

The trail, that follows the hydro line for 11 miles through the park, is a safe, dry land route that can be used for the whole season.

It was closed by the Ministry of Natural Resources Parks Branch without any consultation with the people who use the route as a direct link by snowmobile from Haliburton to Whitney, it was pointed out at the meeting.

An attempt to raise enough funds to make necessary repairs to the Monmouth Arena got off to a good start Saturday when 75 walkers raised an estimated $1,900.

Jean Thomas, one of the organizers of the walk, said that response was much more than expected. Mrs. Thomas said that they estimated that the walk would raise somewhere in the neighbourhood of $1,000.

The walk was organized by the Wilberforce Figure Skating Club to do that organizations share in the fund raising projects for the arena.

September, 1975:

The sewage system for the Village of Haliburton is now in operation. This is sure good news to the many people who are getting ready to hook on. After months of delays it is finally ready.

The Municipality of Dysart et al has informed The Echo that sewage is now being accepted at the treatment plant and they are urging all owners fronting on the collector system to arrange connection at the earliest possible date.

The Echo has been informed that Logan Construction of Stratford has received the contract for the demolition and removal of the old Drag River Bridge at Haliburton. The demolition work will begin this week.

concerned with "The Ombudsman and Access to Information." It was his belief that the ultimate adjudicative authority in this connection should rest with the courts, that the Ombudsman's function was quite distinct, although there is considerable overlap.

Gerald Baldwin, MP, a long-time proponent of freedom of information, expressed the view that secrecy led to incompetence, indecision and scandal. He favored the idea of the Ombudsman intervening to secure documents which had been denied.

Donald MacDonald, MPP, maintained that the parliamentary system cannot be truly democratic unless there is freedom of information. He believes that freedom of information will lead to genuinely responsible government and reduce the alienation of people from government.

Margaret Campbell, MPP, dealt directly with freedom of information available to the public through the Legislature, one of her concerns being the right of the individual to see his or her own file. She also dealt in specific terms with the right of the citizen to know what the government is doing, citing experience in the provincial legislature.

For example, she mentioned an 11-page document reporting on efforts to obtain information from the government, particularly the Ministry of Health, on a private enterprise which receives some seven million dollars annually from the province. Oral questions and Order Paper questions failed to obtain the information, and we resurrected a little known procedure called "A Notice of Motion for Production of Papers," in addition to letters to the Minister. All to no avail.

Then there is the matter of the Toronto Island Airport, and its possible use for STOL (Short Take-Off and Landing) planes. In April, 1974, we learned of the existence of a Committee meeting behind closed doors to review "technical information" on this matter. (Incidentally, not all the members serving on this Committee had technical expertise.) Originally, we sought membership of the Committee. Subsequently observer status was requested. This too was denied, although it was resolved that the minutes of meetings be made available.

However, the minutes we received were considerably less than complete. The matter was referred to the Attorney General on the basis of an investigation into the falsification of public documents, but he ruled the Chairman of the Committee had prepared a summary of proceedings which contained "All the essential and basic points that were discussed." The Minister stated: "In creating this summary there was no attempt to distort the facts or mislead people as to the Committee's considerations." It is interesting to note that among those matters deleted from our minutes were the numbers of passengers which might be expected to use a STOL airport, alternative airport sites, the full name of a provincial government study and a statement regarding provincial policy towards introduction of air service in Southern Ontario.

Experience with government information offices is equally discouraging. Earlier this summer we requested reports from the Ministry of Health, one on ambulance services, the other on allegations by the Canadian Civil Liberties Association that people had been improperly detained in mental hospitals. To date neither report has been received from the government, although the report on ambulance services has been sent to us "in a brown paper envelope" from an unknown source.

Extendicare Settlers' Night

Dr. O.W. Anderson gave a brief history of the early settlers to the Haliburton County area. Dr. Anderson spoke at the Settler's Night held at Extendicare last week.

Rev. Trevor Denny sang a number of solos at Extendicare's Settler's Night held on Friday. Rev. Denny and a number of other entertainers gave interesting performances for the many residents and guests.

Brian Waller was one of the members of the Haliburton Legion Pipe and Drum Band which performed at Settler's Night at Extendicare. Young Brian played his small drum with the band. Settler's Night was well attended by a number of local residents.

An evening of music just wouldn't seem complete without the fine piano playing of Ray Jenkins. Mr. Jenkins was at Extendicare last Friday night to entertain at Settler's Night.

Special competition

Cardiff school goes to the dogs

It has been rumored recently that Cardiff Elementary School "has gone to the dogs." Well, last week proved that rumor to be correct - twenty-four dogs to be exact.

There were four basic divisions into which the dogs were divided - puppy, small, medium and large. The owners put their animals through the various motions while the staff members acted as judges to see whose dog would be champion in each division.

In the "puppy class," Susan Howe received first place, with Tracy McCormick getting an honourable mention.

Garry Harris received first place for the "small dog class" with honourable mention going to Chris Tomasini and Desere McKenzie.

Carol Ann Todd took first place in the "medium size class" with Shelly Curry and Kim Ryan each receiving an honourable mention.

Janice Lawrence received first place in the "large dog class" with Jennifer Johnston and Heather Vickery getting honourable mention. Perhaps the most unique example of canine majesty was presented by Brett Scott.

He received a special award for having the "cleanest dog in town."

The children showed a lot of enthusiasm in this competition. Brenda Davis and Dana Appleyard deserve credit for organizing the event. Perhaps by the end of the year, another competition will be held to see how much the dogs and their trainers have improved.

Not to be outdone, I'm sure that the cat lovers of our school will be thinking of having a competition in the near future, but you may be sure that the two events won't be held on the same day!

Haliburton County Council turns down conservation authority at least for the present time

Minden - The Haliburton County Council has, at least for the time being, turned down a proposal to establish a conservation authority which would encompass parts of Haliburton County, Victoria County, Peterborough County and the Regional Municipality of Durham.

Reg Booth, Reeve of Anson and Minden, told The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder that both the county council and his council did not see any advantage to the people of the area.

He pointed out that his council and the county council have met with officials of the Kawartha Conservation Study Group to look into the possibility of having a conservation authority but the county and municipality do not have the funds this year.

He noted though, "If they could show us what they are going to do here it would be a different ball game."

Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey, said he could see no real benefit to the county and to the municipality of Dysart et al. He pointed out that he is not against the establishment of a conservation authority if there is a benefit.

Reeve Fearrey pointed out that the conservation authority would not have any controls over the Trent Canal and ultimately the water levels in Haliburton County because the Trent Canal is under federal jurisdiction while conservation authorities are provincial.

In a news release from the Kawartha Conservation Study Group a number of questions were asked.

"Is the quality of fresh water in the Kawartha Lakes slowly but surely degenerating? Are the spawning grounds of popular game fish and the nesting areas of numerous water fowl endangered by man's abuse of the landscape he utilizes? Is a fair share of good quality lake and river front property available for local residents to enjoy as public park land?" it asked.

The release pointed out that a group of concerned citizens from Victoria County have been meeting regularly since Sept., 1976 to discuss these and other questions. "Chaired by Rhys Williams of Lindsay, the committee which originally called itself "The Kawartha Pollution Probe" and which now calls itself "The Kawartha Conservation Study Group" has investigated ways to promote solutions to the problems of water quality, unwise land use practices and the conservation of wildlife and local natural areas. Provincial civil servants, conservation authority administrators and local educators were consulted in the hope that a sensible and effective course of action could be determined, the release said.

The final decision reached by the committee was that the promotion of a Kawartha Conservation Authority now should be undertaken.

Such an organization which must be organized by local residents and not by the provincial government, the release stated. It consists of representatives appointed by the municipalities sharing lands within the proposed Authority.

"The Authority boundaries are ideally natural ones, defined by the river divides of a major watershed area. This means that any source of pollution in a river system must be located within the boundaries of the Authority and can be tackled by the member municipalities in forum," the release said.

THE HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF
CONSERVATION
AUTHORITIES

The development of Conservation Authorities in Ontario did not result from one single event. It resulted rather from the initiative of assorted naturalist groups, concerned citizens and various government departments and acts. The Federation of Ontario Naturalists, for example, has promoted the principles of sound conservation for almost half a century. Also, several groups of Ontario river valley municipalities during the 1930's sought flood control programs within their watersheds before any Conservation Authority existed.

In 1938, the Grand River Conservation Commission was established, setting the precedent that the provincial and federal levels of government would assist municipal governments in controlling floods, a definite conservation program.

In 1941, various conservation groups, government departments and university delegates met in Guelph, Ontario to discuss ways in which soldiers returning from the war could be employed in conservation programs. The conference urged that a coordinated conservation program be undertaken in Ontario, initially utilizing the labor provided by unemployed soldiers.

The immediate result of this conference was a detailed study of the Ganaraskas valley, a watershed drained by the municipality could conduct excellent water management programs only to have them negated by a municipality upstream which had poor or no water management programs. Serious pollution upstream must end up downstream.

Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

At times it seems very hard for the people of Minden and Haliburton to get together on anything. But there is two organizations that seem to hit it off pretty good and that is the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Clubs. Last week, as they do every year at this time, they had their annual golf tournament which was played at the PineStone Inn Golf and Country Club at Haliburton this year.

Haliburton has sure been getting its share of break-ins during the past two months. Many local business establishments have been broken into and making the businessmen a little up tight. If it gets much worse we may have to put a local policeman on duty throughout the night.

How time goes by. It will soon be time for the winter carnivals in Haliburton and Minden. Both places are busy already making plans for the big events which aren't that far off. Winter carnivals are becoming very popular all over the country and Haliburton is no exception.

Betty Evans, of the Meryle Dolan Evangelistic Association, has visited the eastern part of the county several times in preparation for a crusade in late October. It has been confirmed that these special meetings will be held in the Harcourt Community Chapel and in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre, in Wilberforce.

Just a reminder here that the annual canvass for the blind in the County of Haliburton is now on and will continue right through until October 15. Your support is appreciated. The Haliburton County Branch for the Canadian Institute for the Blind is represented with Ron Barr, Gooderham, President; Ron Hore, Haliburton, Treasurer; Marie Wallace, Eagle Lake, Secretary.

By popular demand Charlotte Rosino is returning to conduct a 9 week course in the ancient, classic tradition of Integral Yoga beginning Wednesday, October 5 and continuing through until December 7 at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Beginners - 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Advanced - 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. The cost is $30.00.

BY JIM BADGLEY

The Haliburton Huskies and Haliburton Beaconbrook Midnets could likely be missing the services of Bernie Nicholls this season. Nicholls, who was the top scorer with the midnets and one of the big shooters for the junior team, we understand has left for Woodstock to play junior hockey there.

The hockey teams are not the only losers though. Nicholls was also the starting quarterback for the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen in their opening game against Brock of Cannington last week.

He scored Haliburton's only major in the 6-6 tie on a quarterback sneak.

The Redmen played some exciting football in the game, controlling Brock and keeping the ball over centre field for most of the action.

An announcement about who is going to coach the Haliburton Travelways Huskies this season is expected to be included in this issue of The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder.

The Echo has learned that Bill Davis will again coach the Haliburton Midnets. Haliburton went to their league finals against Beaverton and then dropped a close series.

Beaverton, by the way, went on to win the all-Ontario championship in their division.

For those of us who found ourselves a little busy to play golf too often and found the golf courses a little busy to get around, then fall is a great time of the year, even though it is a little cooler.

I got out a couple of times last week and found that I had the golf course almost to myself. It's too bad that fall just couldn't last for a month or two longer.

Harcourt, who had not won over IGA all season, surprised ed the first place club and came up with three straight wins to start the series.

IGA came back with two wins before the Lumberkings were able to get the final victory.

The team would like to thank the fans, staff of the

Along the Trails

BY ROY BATES

Snowmobile Organizations Ready for Snow

It was evident from the large numbers of people passing through the turnstiles at the International Centre that SNOWMOBILE '78 was a very successful event. Sponsored by the Ontario Snowmobile Distributors Association, the many displays included all of the major manufacturers of snowmobiles, clothing and accessories and grooming equipment, as well as numerous booths dispensing magazines and information pamphlets, as well as promotional brochures.

As just one example of the interest shown by the public in this year's show, a large supply of maps and brochures provided by our Chamber of Commerce to Bob Palmer's HOLIDAY COUNTRY booth were all gone by mid-morning on Saturday. A booth of our own, in next year's show, might be well worth considering.

While past directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs, and their wives dispensed reams of pertinent information on driver-training, trail development, safety and legislation, the current directors were meeting in a back room to hammer out policies for the coming snow season.

In a two-hour session Saturday morning, representatives from OSDA, OFSC, and the Ontario Safety League, discussed openly their mutual concerns and objectives, and came out of the meeting looking forward to an even closer liaison in an already excellent relationship.

Nancy Strole, Director of Research for the International Snowmobile Industry Association, and Derrick Crandall, Director of Government Affairs for ISIA, came up from Washington, D.C. to sit in on the meeting and to applaud most enthusiastically the great strides being made by snowmobiler organizations in Ontario.

Closer to home, directors of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association came together last week for the first meeting of what promises to be a very busy fall session. All directors were present, as were both appointed representatives of the county - Mack Peters, Cardiff and Fred Baum, Dorset. A full measure of enthusiasm was displayed, indicating that all directors are ready and anxious to shoulder the responsibilities of guiding the HCSEA through the coming season.

In accordance with the mandate given them by the general membership, the Board has selected the Executive Officers for the term.

They are: President - Jim Solway (Minden); Vice-President - Gordon Brown (Haliburton); Immediate Past President - Ken Fielding (Mountain Lake); Secretary - John Purc (Minden); Treasurer - Steve Barry (Minden).

Directors are: Bob Jennings (Halls Lake); Dale MacDonald (Halls Lake); Brian Hunter (Haliburton); Bill Picard (Haliburton); Bill Foote (Haliburton); Merle Pringle (Donald); Roy Bates (Donald).

If we may interject a personal opinion at this point, we see the new HCSEA Board of Directors as an excellent executive body for a trail building club. The majority of members listed above are tried and proven workers. The new people were selected for their keen interest and enthusiasm. Since the enthusiasm of all is known to be heavily weighted toward trail development, we can be assured that the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will be a leader in bringing to reality the long-awaited province-wide grid of snowmobile trails.

Jack Yateman takes Boice tournament

Haliburton - Jake Yateman fired a 79 to take top spot in the low gross division of the Boice Motors Golf Tournament held last week.

Second in low gross was Scott Arbuthnot with an 80.

John Yateman came up with a low net of 74 to win that division, while Eric Edwards fired a 76 to come second.

The most honest golfer award went to Wilford Barry who came up with a 145.

There were 15 participants in the 18 hole competition which was played at Lakeview Golf Club in West Guilford.

Jake Yateman was awarded the trophy as the top golfer in the annual Boice Motors Golf Tournament. Making the presentation was Brant Stamp. Jake had the low gross.

There was plenty of action last Thursday at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School when Brock of Cannington came to town to meet the HHSS Redmen in the first football game of the year. The game ended in a 6-6 tie with both teams getting good performances from their defensive units.

Bad breaks cost Redmen season's first game

Haliburton - A couple of bad breaks in the oppositions end cost Haliburton Highland Secondary School Redmen a win in the teams first game of the football season.

The game, played in Haliburton, ended in a 6-6 tie with Brock from Cannington and Haliburton each getting their points on single touchdowns.

Haliburton had the ball on the one yard line in one incident but a fumble ended the scoring threat. There was also a defensive touchdown called back because of an illegal motion penalty to the Haliburton punting team.

The Redmen's touchdown came on a quarterback sneak when Bernie Nicholls was able to get the ball over the goal line.

The touchdown was set up by a 35 yard passing play, Nicholls hitting Tim Davies.

The Brock touchdown came from a 20 yard end run.

The outstanding offensive players in the game, for Haliburton, were Ken Griffin and Tim Bain. Dave Brown was the outstanding defensive player.

Larry Stinson led the ground attack with 14 carries for 72 yards.

Steve Davies had eight carries for 32 yards.

Haliburton's next home game will be Oct. 13 when I.E. Weldon comes to town.

Radio licence from 1950

For $2.50 back in 1950 a person was allowed to operate a radio.

Brian Hunter has come across some old radio licenses including one issued to his grandfather back in 1950.

The license, which was issued by the Department of Transport-Radio Division, was issued to J.E. Hunter on June 24, 1950 and was good until March 31, 1951.

The license, for those of you too young to remember, is for a private receiving station which is better known as an ordinary radio.

The license was issued in accordance with the "Provisions of The Radio Act, 1938."

On the back side of the license it gives the regulations a person had to obey to operate a radio.

Winner in quilt draw

Sara Hammond of 241 Mississauga, Elliot Lake, was the winner of the West Guilford Golden Age Club quilt draw.

The proceeds from the draw go to work at the West Guilford Community Centre. The club wishes to thank everyone who bought tickets.

School Redmen will need big efforts from both veterans and rookies if the team hopes to be a success on the field this season.

The team is coached by Gary Brohman and Bob Collier.

Coach Brohman said that the club will need a super effort from Larry Stinson this season. Stinson was named the outstanding offensive player on the club last year.

Steve Davies, who was converted from an offensive centre to a fullback this season, did a good job in the opening game last week when Haliburton tied Brock 6-6.

Also returning in the offensive backfield will be Ken Griffin and Brian Mulholland.

Handling the quarterbacking duties for the rest of the season will likely be Tim Davies. Bernie Nicholls was quarterback in the first game but has left the area for a hockey tryout.

Coach Brohman said the offensive line looks solid with veterans Tim Bain at centre, Jim Thompson guard, Butch Barnes tackle, and Ed Roberts tight end.

The coach pointed out that Barnes and Thompson go both ways offensive and defensive.

The defense is anchored by Dave Brown safety, Rodger Hicks defensive tackle, Dan Allison linebacker, Kevin Finch defensive back and Brian Shaw defensive end.

These players are all veterans on the club.

Other veterans out with the team are Sam Duffy, Keith Harrison, Jim Hatkoski, Mark Lardner, Randy Peacock, Tom Perrott, Chris Roberts and Jerry Solmes.

Among the rookies who coach Brohman said could crack the starting lineup this season are Andy Anderson, Brent Collier, Rod Consack, Randy Griffin, Brian Hogg, Mike Iles, Pete Johnson, Butch Manary, Jim McCracken, Fraser Newton, Dave Pratt, Mike Scheffee, Tony Upton, Paul Watson and Ronnie Yake.

Coach Brohman said that one of the most impressive points of the team this season is the number of players. He pointed out that they have had as many as 65 out to a practice and dressed 55 for last week's game with Brock.

Among the other rookies out with the team are Scott Miller, Warren Aggette, Scott Arbutnot, Dave Bouchard, Shawn Chapman, Alan Clement, Barry Devolan, Gordon DeHwhite, Bruce Medcalfe, Cameron Monk, Jamie Rogers, Brent Stromberg, Wayne O'Neill, Scott Welch, Ed Heard and Casey Cox.

The big competition for Haliburton this season is Brock from Cannington, the only other A division team in the league.

The two clubs will meet again on Oct. 25 at Brock and since the first meeting ended in a 6-6 tie, the game will decide who goes to post season play.

Haliburton has one more home game scheduled, Oct. 13, when I.E. Weldon of Lindsay comes to town for a game at 2 p.m.

On Oct. 7 the juniors on the team will play Fenelon Falls in Fenelon Falls, in a game which starts at 2:30.

Oct. 20 Haliburton travels to Lindsay Collegiate for a game at 2:30.

Coach Brohman said that the team looked stronger than Brock in the opening game but ended up in a tie because of a couple of bad plays in the opposition's end.

Report from Ottawa

BY MP BILL SCOTT

Bill Scott, MP Victoria-Haliburton, has received close to 3,000 questionnaires from interested constituents in the riding. It will be recalled that a twelve page booklet entitled "Report From Ottawa" was sent out to individuals throughout the area early in July. Over 25,000 households were reached with this mailing and close to 3,000 replies have been received.

The actual number of questionnaires sent by the Post Office Department was 25,878. Replies received by Mr. Scott from individuals who have responded to the questionnaire, total 2,751. This gives a return of approximately 10.6 per cent which is considered a reasonable sampling for surveys of this type. Although some questionnaires are still coming in to his Ottawa office, Mr. Scott has decided to tabulate the results in order that individuals throughout the area can be made aware of the feeling which has been expressed through the poll.

In respect to the problems concerning Quebec and Confederation, almost 62 per cent felt that a national referendum should have been held in respect to Quebec's proposed separation. 89 per cent of the respondents indicated that they believed that Canada would survive as a country while 11 per cent felt that Confederation would be destroyed were Quebec to separate. An overwhelming 91.3 per cent declared that they would not be willing to grant Quebec special status in order to keep it in Confederation.

Close to 80 per cent indicated their disapproval of the Government's plan to substitute metric measurements in place of our traditional system and an overwhelming 87 per cent felt that the government should have consulted the citizens of Canada before proceeding with metrification.

In respect to opinions on the Anti-Inflation Board, results were mixed although generally the A.I.B. was given a poor rating. 7 per cent thought the Anti-Inflation Board was "very good," 41 per cent saw it as "good," whereas 52 per cent felt its operation had been "poor." Surprisingly, 30 per cent felt that controls should be abolished now while an almost identical number felt they should be kept on permanently. The remaining 39 per cent felt that controls should be continued until the legislation ends on December 31, 1978.

It should be noted that while 2,751 questionnaires were returned, not all individuals replied to every question and thus the numerical figures will not be identical for each separate question. It might also be pointed out that considering the time of year that the survey was taken, the results received revealed the percentage return higher than the Canadian average.

Mr. Scott expressed his appreciation at the response received in this questionnaire and reports that countless other individuals also contacted him by letter, telephone call and personal conversation. As always, constituents are invited to express their opinions or contact Mr. Scott should his assistance be required for any problem relating to the Federal Government.

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

Arne Anderson got off to an early start this Monday morning to enjoy a two weeks holiday at Markham with his sister. Arne is deserving of this change.

From time to time it seems we must be inspected by government and so this Monday, Mrs. Ruth Warren, from the Ministry of Health and Welfare, did those honors. She found everything pretty straight forward.

Still Monday we welcome back Mrs. Jane Rosenberg, our senior nurse. It is like old times to have her with us and we are glad with her of the added bundle of wealth that she will cherish in the coming years.

Tuesday evening Jake Gill had some interesting company - his son, Jake Jr. and wife Adrienne, their daughter Terri Ann, and her daughter Sheri Ann. Four generations and Jake is very proud of it.

Mrs. Joyce Shaw, one of our nurses aids, has returned from an Ontario gadabout, Sault Ste. Marie, Napanee, and Trenton. She reports no flat tires and everything went according to plan.

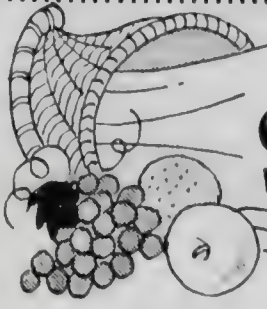

Cecil Kellett met an unexpected problem on awakening on Wednesday morning. As he was walking across his room he fell, striking his nose against some unknown as yet object, making quite a cut, requiring surgery. He is quite alright now, except for a bandage.

Thursday, by invitation, we went to the community centre where the Haliburton Senior Citizens Group were having their weekly gathering. Here we met an unexpected misunderstanding because we found the group clearing up after a potluck dinner. Soon we were nearly the only occupants of the arena, playing euchre and crokinole. We are sorry of this misunderstanding.

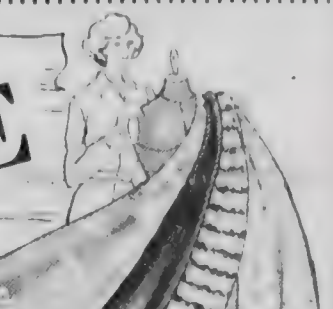

Pastor Rosch's message to us at our Friday morning devotion period was of the spirit of Christ that dwells within. He in us and we with Him. Mrs. Rosch provided delightful music to accompany our singing.

There was a good turnout on "Settlers Night." Miss Elston welcomed the guests, followed by a few remarks by Dr. Anderson on the early settlers in the Haliburton region of English, Scotch and Irish, and it was the intent to entertain in each of these three cultures in turn.

The Haliburton pipe band marched in tartans and kilts to the skirl of the bagpipes, circling among the guests before settling down. Then came the various highland dancing, accompanied by the pipes. Among the dancers was one of our former nurses, Mrs. Norma Williamson, whom we were especially pleased to see. All too soon the band finally piped their way to the skirl of the pipes. Mrs. Peggy Neville led the English scene to the accompaniment by the incomparable Ray Jenkins.

Gems of Truth

Soul Health:

In the second and third Epistle of John, four different persons are brought before us for lessons of "walking in truth." The elect lady and her family is the first, and she is highly commended for her Christian walk of love. However, she was warned against false teachers becoming recipients of her kind heart. II John 1:11. In Third John we find that Gaius was encouraged to welcome true servants of the Lord into his home and be their fellow helpers. The difference in these two types of lodgers is very outstanding. The first group were false teachers and the deniers of the Deity of Jesus whilst the second group which Gaius sheltered were in full agreement with the Gospel which John was teaching. It was truth as it is in Jesus Christ. III John 1:8.

The man Gaius had a fine Christian testimony of love and concern for others. In fact there were three of the four mentioned by John who lived to love and serve others, and therefore were loved in return. Not so with Diotrephes, verse 9. He loved himself more than anybody else and could not bear anyone to have more authority or be more prominent than himself. He had no love or respect for the aged Apostle John and he sought to undermine the authority of the Apostle of love. The noted Bible scholar, Dr. Scofield, truly says of this Third Epistle of John that, "historically it marks the beginning of that clerical and priestly assumption over the churches in which the primitive church order disappeared." This statement very well describes the condition as found in John's day as the Lord Jesus reviewed the seven churches of Asia as recorded in Revelation, Chapter two and three. Of Gaius it is stated that he was well spoken of by those who had come in contact with him, but he apparently had a health problem. III John, verse 2. Spiritually, he was healthy indeed and the prayer of John is that his body health could measure up to the inner man. John knew that he did not consist of soul and spirit only, therefore he desired that Gaius might prosper in health even as he had prospered in soul and spirit. We must not neglect the body, but keep it clean, pure and under self-control. I Cor. 9:27. Spirit, soul, and body are intimately connected together, and to neglect the body is to do injury to the soul. I Cor. 6:19, II Cor. 6:11, 7:1.

False teachers insist that the soul is the body and quote a few Old Testament verses to prove this. Not so. Paul declares that his prayer to God is that the "very God of peace sanctify you wholly, and that the whole man be preserved blameless unto the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ." I Thessalonians 5:23. Man is a "trinity," body, soul and spirit. In scripture use, the distinction between spirit, soul and body may be traced. That distinction is that the "spirit" is that part of man which "knows" his mind. I Cor. 2:11. The "soul" is the seat of the affections, desires and so of the emotions, and recognition of things around us. It is in this area that animals are sometimes called a soul. They are earth conscious and are aware of other beings and can enjoy or hate another one's presence. However, such do not have a "spirit" which makes them "God conscious." This spirit is God given to man and enables him to worship and fellowship with his Creator. This is what has been retained in the heathen culture and is embedded in all religious rites of religion. Man alone can be religious and it is only when the spirit in man is again united by the Holy Spirit to the One who created him that the true purpose of that creation is restored. It is thus that man is able to live a life that befits his "crowning glory" among created life.

The Word of God

Brian V. Sullivan

In order for the message of salvation to be proclaimed, it was necessary that Jesus return on high. In John 16: 7 we find the words of Jesus: "Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you." The Comforter that Jesus referred to is identified in John 14:26 as the Holy Ghost. What would He do when He came?

There are a number of things that would be accomplished by the Holy Ghost when He fulfilled His Work. Let's assemble the details. John 14:26 - "He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance." John 16:7-16 - "Reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." "He will guide you into all truth." "He will speak what He hears (careful look at verses 13-15 reveal that the Father makes known the will to the Son, the Son to the Holy Spirit, and the Holy Spirit to the apostles)." "He would glorify the Son." Notice that these things all pertain to the message that would be delivered, or to inspiration if you wish. They help us understand what was occurring on Pentecost in Acts 2, when the apostles spoke as the "Spirit gave them utterance." (verse 4.)

Jesus had promised this, but could He fulfil it? Let us notice what Peter said about it, and then what Paul said about it. First, Peter, in Acts 2:32-33: "This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear." Notice where Jesus was, at the right hand of God exalted, and from there He had shed forth the things that were occurring on Pentecost. Second, let us notice that Paul states in Ephesians 4:7 - "But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive and gave gifts unto men. (Now that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.) And he gave some apostles; and some, prophets; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the fullness of Christ: that we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive; but speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ: "According to Paul, Jesus ascended after He had first descended, and upon His ascension He was above all heavens, that He might fill all things. This power and authority He had allowed him to give gifts unto men in order to establish his Church (Matthew 16:18-19) and to ensure that the truth would be made known (see first part of article again).

Gaius was a Christian who "walked in the truth." His whole life was governed by the truth of the Word of God. The Lord of the Church is able to use children of His with "weak bodies" and such can be marvelous testimonies of His presence and care. However, strong bodied men and women are the ones who carry the load of missions on the battle-front and God needs husky, healthy Christians to carry out His program in evangelization. The Lord Jesus needs "body, soul and spirit" of his redeemed and use-all and sundry who are truly committed to His will. Romans 16: 17-20.

The fact that men were so equipped is testimony to the fact that Jesus did ascend to the place of power and authority. Next week, we will notice the scripture that describes His welcoming back home in heaven, see you then.

Lakeside Church presents Corrie

"Corrie": Behind the scenes with The Hiding Place a new full-length color release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at Lakeside Baptist Church, Haliburton, on Sunday, Oct. 9. A single showing is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Hiding Place, a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who, with her father, sister, and brother provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Booms activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

According to Kenneth Bliss director for World Wide Pictures, The Hiding Place has been extremely well received both by audiences and film critics. "Corrie" was produced to give people who have seen The Hiding Place, or read her many books, an opportunity to hear her share many of her experiences about her life in Holland, her family, and her lifetime of service to others.

CORRIE TEN BOOM

Bliss added that the film "offers a great lesson in the perseverance of a personal faith in a very dark and trying period of world history. Corrie ten Boom, now in her eighties, has a tremendous vitality, a deep spiritual commitment, and a profound love for her fellow man. We believe we have succeeded in transmitting a part of her zest, personality, and source of strength through this film."

Bliss noted that the film includes "interesting side-lights on the experiences of the cast and crew during the filming of The Hiding Place."

There may be residents of the Norland area who have questions concerning the government insulation grant available to owners of homes that were built prior to 1921. This program, known as C.H.I.P. (Canadian Home Insulation Program) is designed to encourage Canadians to adequately insulate their homes, thereby conserving energy. There is an income taxable grant of two-thirds of the cost of the purchased C.M.H.C. accepted insulating materials, up to the maximum of $350.00 per unit. The address to contact by writing is P.O. Box 700, St. Laurent Postal Station, Montreal, Quebec H4L 5A8, or call collect (514) 341-1511 for further information.

Mrs. Phyllis Miller, wife of the minister of Minden United Church, was guest speaker at Region 6 United Church Women's Rally, on Wed., Sept. 21, in Minden United Church. Mrs. Miller spoke to some 65 ladies who attended from Haliburton, Minden, Lochlin, Carnarvon, Gooderham, Ingoldsby, Maple Lake and Wilberforce. The theme of Mrs. Miller's address was "Effectual Fervent Prayer Availeth Much" - James 5: Verse 16. Mrs. Archie Brown aptly chaired the meeting of this successful regional rally.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. M. Cooper, a long time Shadow Lake summer cottager, is recuperating from two broken legs in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. It seems that early in August she and her son, Don, were involved in a car accident near Lindsay when a bumble bee flew in the window, causing Don to lose control of the vehicle, hitting a building. Don was fortunate in only bruising some ribs. Our good wishes for a speedy recovery, Mrs. Cooper.

This weekend is the opening of the duck and partridge hunting season. I know because I was awakened this morning (Saturday) at 6:40 a.m. by the noise of many shotguns blasting off, followed by the loud quacking of ducks. A very rude awakening!

Only two more Saturdays to purchase good used clothing and household articles at Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop, situated on Highway 35 just north of Norland Marine. Shop will be open Sat., Oct. 1 and 8 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. and then will close for the season. Better hurry!

sounds good. Line a pan with cut up cheese and chopped onion, using enough to cover the bottom of the pan thinly. Beat 2 eggs with 1 1/2 cups milk and pour over cheese and onion. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 1/2 hour or until set.

Mrs. Windover spent the weekend recently with her sister and brother-in-law Mr. & Mrs. Roy Hazelton, in Oshawa.

Don't forget the Family Fun night at the curling rink, Oct. 14. I have just heard that Mark Fennel is still under Dr. and hospital care and there will be a Benefit Dance at Carnarvon on Oct. 15. Contact Yvonne Penney for further information and tickets. Dance to the Misty River Ramblers that evening.

Minden Library Committee met at the library last Monday evening to say farewell to Mr. Parisotto who has helped them so much and presented him with a small gift to remember them by.

Visiting Mrs. Ben Harrison over the weekend were Mr. & Mrs. Ivan Cade; Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge; and Miss Margaret Berka.

I watched the C.B.C. production "Fighting Men" on Saturday evening and C.B.C. production "The New Quebec" Sunday evening. Now I have an insight into their problems. There should be more such programs.

Adios and take care now.

Obedience classes are planned for dogs

Minden - Kathy Misner will be starting a dog obedience class in the county over the next few weeks. She told The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder that she will be starting in the second week of October.

This is the first time professional training for dogs has been offered in Haliburton County.

A great deal of interest in having professional training for dogs was created by the dog show at the Haliburton County Fair.

Well drilling is the order of the day in our community at present. We see two different drilling outfits at work, one at the Clarks on St. Peter's Road, and the other on Oscar Sisson's property. Let's hope they are successful in finding good water for the interested parties.

Sunday, Sept. 18, was Harvest Festival Service at St. Peter's Church. What a beautiful picture the interior of the church made, when the parishioners entered for the early morning service, with the beauty of the autumn leaves, the tall corn stalks, vegetables and fruit display, as well as the potted plants and tastefully arranged bouquets of gorgeous garden flowers. Many thanks to all who supplied the flowers and plants and especially to those who gave up part of their Saturday afternoon to help with the decorating.

Belated congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Leigh Sisson on the occasion of their 58th Wedding Anniversary on September 23.

Mr. & Mrs. John Dyer are preparing to close up their cottage for the winter. As neither Mary nor John have been too well this summer, they feel they should leave earlier so as to be nearer their medical consultant. We'll miss them, as they are usually here until November.

Mrs. Violet Smith and Miss Ada Gibbs attended the fall meeting of the Superannuated Teachers of Ontario. District 18, at the Rockhaven Motel near Peterborough on Wed., Sept. 28.

Mr. Ray Welch has been very busy lately getting his fine stand of ensilage corn harvested. How those cattle will rejoice over the juicy tidbits they will be fed during the winter.

All three charges which make up the Parish of Minden will be worshipping together at 10:00 a.m. at St. Peter's Church, Sunday, Oct. 2. Observe the different time - 10:00 a.m. A hearty welcome is extended to the parishioners of both St. Paul's and St. Stephen's. Following this service we plan to share a potluck lunch in St. Peter's basement. So bring your potluck effort and share.

As I read the news columns from other parts of our county, I sometimes see some very good recipes. I'm sending one that some of the readers may find interesting:

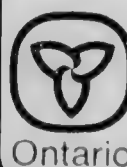

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

The first thing is to catch him. Get a jar, called the jar of carefulness, which all good housewives have on hand. Place hubby in it and set him near the fire of conjugal love. Let the fire be hot, especially let it be clear: above all let it be constant. Cover him over with affection and subjection. Garnish him with the spice of pleasantry and if you add kisses and other confections, let them be accompanied with a sufficient portion of secrecy mixed with prudence and moderation.

Coboconk News

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Bradimore family in the loss of a husband and father. Bill Bradimore was laid to rest on Thursday afternoon. He had been in hospital almost a year. He entered hospital last October 6th and fought a long, hard battle against his illness. Many years ago he suffered severe burns when he fell into hot water at the veneer factory, badly burning his feet, so has suffered much for a number of years.

Mr. & Mrs. Carl Valliers, of Berrien Springs, Michigan were visitors of Mr. & Mrs. Ken Fralick and Clara last week.

The L.O.B.A. ladies attended a meeting with the L.O.B.A. in Lindsay recently and report a nice time.

Joybell Bradimore, of La-Belle Coiffures, is in her new home just a few doors west of her previous dwelling. Joy is operating her beauty shop business from her new home, and we wish her much success. No doubt her former premises will be rented out since there is such a shortage of available apartments or houses to rent.

Mr. & Mrs. Bill Nesbitt and son, of Moncton, New Brunswick, were Sunday visitors of his mother, Mrs. Frances Nesbitt.

The relatives of Mr. Charlie Farrow, of Cannington, paid their respects last week to the deceased. Charlie died about the same time as Bill Bradimore and both are relatives of the Farrow families here.

Duck hunters were out early this morning. Late, about 10 p.m. last night, we heard a flock of wild geese flying south. Have never heard geese flying that late at night, the sky being pitch black. I wonder just how far they would fly, that late at night? Or how could they find a lake or pond or a farmers field on which to rest when all is dark?

Bill and Ann Goode and boys, of Queensville, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Annie Marles.

Mrs. A. Marles visited cousins, Mrs. Alana Hunt and Mrs. Lily Penrose, in Fenelon Falls on Tuesday.

Mr. & Mrs. Jack Bradmore, of Little Britain, were visitors of Mrs. Cora Lake and Mr. & Mrs. Tom Rutter last week.

Here is an interesting remedy for digestive disorders from the book "Earth Medicine - Earth Foods" by Michael A. Weiner: The Menominee Indians ate the syrup of the butternut, also the white walnut, as a stand ard remedy for digestive disorders. The Potawatomes also drank a tea of the inner bark for stomach upsets while the Meskwakis employed butternut bark in a tea as a mild laxative.

This plant, best known for its laxative properties, has been used in domestic American medicine, for this purpose, since before the Revolutionary War. A tea of the roots of the dandelion was drunk for heartburn by the Plaquemine Indians, while the Mobegans and other tribes drank a tea of the leaves for their tonic properties.

I'm sure we have many blessings to be thankful for, namely, for one, a family doctor and hospital. The above book is most interesting but some remedies I would not want to depend upon, and I'm sure must be hard to take!

Why I'm a teacher

Friends of mine in all walks of life can't understand how I can stand teaching as a vocation. With striking originality, they ask: "How can you stand it?"

So, with another 10 months of my chosen way of life under way, I thought I'd look at it, and try to give them an answer.

Perhaps we could start with elimination. It would take an act of God, or a change of sex, or something equally dramatic, to make me an engineer. I have just completed the job of trying to change a typewriter ribbon. It took me 39 minutes. I wound up with ink all over my fingers, my face, and a clean shirt. And guess what came out when I began typing? Red words. It was one of those half-red, half-black ribbons, and I'd got it upside bassackwards. The only reason you are reading this in black is that it is being reproduced by someone else.

My lack of engineering skills precludes my making a fat living where the real money is these days: as a repair man. If you have a son or daughter pondering a career, for the dear goodness' sake, steer it into fixing things — plumbing, electricity, TV, cars. Took my lawnmower to a repairman the other day. It wouldn't start. Picked it up three days later. The bill was $41.16 — one dollar and 16 cents more than half what I had paid for the new machine a few years ago. The bill for labor was $27. You could have a baby for that not so terribly long ago.

Medicine, since I have never had a secret desire to be God, held little appeal for me. It's a noble profession, and you can make a pile of money by peering into people's apertures, probing their flab, making their blood spurt, and writing prescriptions among other things. None of those things turn me on, though.

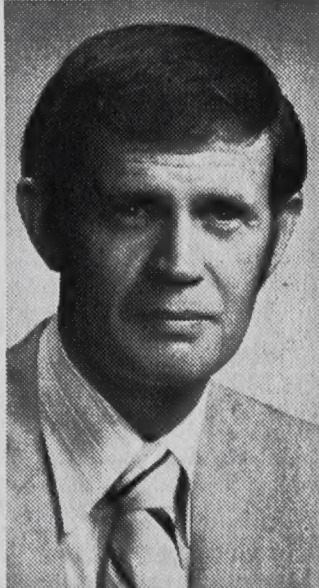

Dentistry, ditto. I can see no particular charm in standing at an angle most acrobats couldn't maintain for 10 seconds, gawking at gums and crumbling renovations. One look into my own mouth would give me nightmares for a week. To heck with the $50,000 a year. Then there's the law, of course. There's a great deal of poppycock about the majesty and the integrity of the law. All of it stems from lawyers and judges. But I wouldn't care to be associated in a profession where there is, despite all disclaimers, one law for the rich and another for the poor. Shakespeare said it nicely: "Let them hang all the lawyers."

Another field that brings in a mighty good buck is accounting. But where's the future in that for a fellow who can't even account to his own wife for the way he behaved at the party on Saturday night?

Quite a good career these days is "working for the government." Certainly you'll never be fired, unless you turn up drunk four days in a row and rape four different secretaries. Even then, you'd probably just be "transferred to a less sensitive area," or put out to pasture on a pension.

When I was a student, we used to say scornfully that if you couldn't do anything else, you went into the ministry. This was a base canard, of course, but the delights of the parsonage

FBDB OPENS
PETERBOROUGH OFFICE

D.R. Johnson

The Federal Business Development Bank announces the opening of an office in Peterborough Square Office Tower, 340 George Street North, Peterborough, Ont., with Mr. D.R. Johnson as Manager.

FBDB assists the growth and creation of small and medium size business enterprises across Canada by providing them with financial assistance and management services. The Peterborough office offers these services to businesses in Peterborough, Victoria, and Haliburton counties.

Mr. Johnson has seven years service with the bank and prior to his present appointment he was Project Officer in the Ontario regional office of the bank, Toronto. The staff of the new office includes Messrs. J.W. Gray and A.L. McLeod who were previously at the Oshawa office, R.A. Coates and W.R. Rounding who were at the Kingston and Stratford offices, respectively, and A.H. Beck who recently joined the bank.

never really got me excited. I wouldn't have minded pounding the old pulpit a bit, but I couldn't have stood the old biddies and the back-stabbers and the constant mendicanting.

What I thought I might be was a professor of English. Sit around in a book-filled study, dispense wisdom to awed students, and give the occasional brilliant lecture. Well I've since met some of my old friends who chose that path. They're more boring than the guy who comes to fix my furnace.

What I really and truly wanted to do when I was young and romantic was to become a foreign correspondent. Influenced by movies, I wanted the works: trench coat, snap brim felt hat, bylines from Hong Kong and Nairobi.

Nearest I got to that was editing the country correspondence from contributors to a small-town weekly. That wasn't a bad vocation, except that you worked 60-odd hours a week and never made any money.

I guess my secret desire for years was to be a writer. Preferably a pipe-smoking, enormously wealthy one, several times divorced, a world traveler, a lecturer in great demand, yet with a depth, a plus quality in my novels that would put me up there with Hardy, Conrad, Hemingway. With three or four of my novels turned into smash hits on Broadway and in Hollywood. And all my own hair and teeth.

Only trouble with that wish was that I was too lazy. Oh, the talent was there. No question about that, as we novel-writers manqué can assure anyone. So instead of becoming a Hemingway, I became Bill Smiley, a chronicler of the tribulations and the trivia of the mid-20th century. And not a whit bitter or disillusioned about it.

That wasn't quite enough

Conservation

offering any co-ordinated conservation program.

WHAT CONSERVATION AUTHORITIES HAVE TO OFFER

The personalities of Conservation Authorities vary as the geography of the area and the interests of the people located within the region vary. This does not mean, however, that the commitment to conservation declines from authority to authority.

About half of Ontario's Conservation authorities were established to prevent floods from occurring in highly populated river valleys. The Grand River and the Thames River Authorities are good examples of these. The Metropolitan Toronto Conservation Authority was established after disastrous Hurricane Hazel struck the city in the fall of 1954. Almost 100 persons living in the flood plain of the Humber River perished in an unexpected flood caused by torrential rains falling in the upper regions of the watershed. Today, such a disaster would not be possible since Conservation Authorities have the power to disallow any development on lands susceptible to flooding. Also, structures have been built to hold or carry away excess water.

Does the lack of a need for flood control in some regions mean that Conservation Authorities should not be established there? Indeed not. They should be established wherever residents feel a need exists for organized conservation programs. For example, in the nearby Otonabee Region Conservation Authority, only 6 per cent of 1975 expenditures were spent on water programs while 31 per cent were spent on conservation areas and 11 per cent spent on wildlife programs.

Today, many of Ontario's most interesting attractions are administered, maintained and preserved by Conservation Authorities.

The famous Warsaw Caves north of Peterborough are administered by the Otonabee Authority. Black Creek Village in north Toronto, was developed by the Metro Authority. Even the famous Bruce Trail which enables hikers to walk from Niagara Falls to Tobermory without trespassing on private property, was established with the assistance of different Conservation Authorities located along its route.

Not all Conservation Authority projects are spectacular or famous. For years, authorities assisted farmers in developing farm ponds. Nesting areas for waterfowl have been protected, and in some cases, nesting boxes erected. Wetlands have been preserved as the spawning ground for game fish and in their natural state, help to prevent floods by holding spring run-off for long periods of time. The existence of wetlands also helps to prevent summer droughts as waters are released gradually. Reforestation is carried on in many authorities, much of it as community projects. In an Otonabee Wildlife area on one weekend alone, nearly 500 local Boy Scouts planted over 36,000 trees with the assistance of the authority.

Many Conservation Authorities have created large areas called "Conservation Areas." In them, a large number of outdoor activities can be enjoyed. Lessons for young people regarding reforestation, water quality, soil erosion, the value of good conservation and many other topics may be explored. Activities such as cross country skiing, hiking, camping, boating, swimming, picnicking, snowmobiling, tobogganing and sledding, fishing, skating and hunting can often be enjoyed.

Many authorities not only try to conserve local natural features, but also try to preserve features of historical value. A number of fine old grist mills have been restored and preserved such as the Lang Mill on the Indian River in Otonabee Township. In reconstructed pioneer villages, many educational tours are offered to thousands of school children annually. In this way, the pioneer way of life can be witnessed easily by old and young alike.

Conservation authorities recognize educational programs as an important part of any future conservation program. Consequently, they often work with groups of students, associations such as the 4-H Club and teachers to develop concern for the natural environment. Workshops are organized, brochures printed, outings made available, various demonstrations held and many other activities planned to involve local residents in as many conservation programs as possible.

Does our area have anything worthy of preservation, or any problems related to a lack of conservation that need to be solved? The Kawartha Conservation Authority study group thinks so. If residents enjoy life in an uncluttered, peaceful and well-balanced environment, then they are likely interested in adopting ways of maintaining that environment. If they feel that there are advantages to conservation programs and outdoor education for all age groups, then they will probably favor the establishment of a Conservation Authority in this district. If they believe that there are wetlands to preserve for waterfowl and game fish, scenic areas to be maintained for all residents to enjoy, lakefront to be utilized more effectively by local residents, or that there is any historical site worthy of preservation, then they will probably favor forming an Authority.

THE FORMATION OF AND COSTS OF CONSERVATION AUTHORITIES

If a group of citizens wishes a Conservation Authority to be formed, they air their views to local representatives of the municipal council. After careful consideration, the council then decides if it is in favor of or against forming an authority in their area. If the desired boundaries are known (these are established with the assistance of the Ministry of Natural Resources), then two or more municipalities located within the boundaries request that a meeting of all municipalities to be involved, be held. If at least two-thirds attend, then a vote may be taken to establish the authority. Approval requires a two-thirds majority of those municipalities attending. The representation is by population: Municipalities of 50,000 to 100,000 people have three representatives; 10,000 to 50,000 people have two representatives; while municipalities of less than 10,000 have one representative. In a Kawartha Conservation Authority there would be only three municipalities with two votes or more.

After an affirmative vote, all members in the new authority would become members regardless of how they voted. The provincial government would be advised and the authority officially established as a corporate body.

Funds required to administer Conservation Authorities and to carry out proposed projects have two main sources. The larger consists of grants from the Government of Ontario. Approximately two-thirds of Conservation Authority expenditures are often covered in this way. Most of the remainder is paid for by the municipalities themselves and the amount each pays is based on the benefit it receives from the various authority programs. A third source of revenue in some authorities, consists of public donations. Capital is sometimes left by an estate directly, or by the family of the deceased as a memorial. Even land has been willed.

It is projected that the Kawartha Conservation Authority would operate in its first year at a cost of $40,000. This would cover only a skeleton staff and office. A co-ordinator would be supplied by the Provincial government which would pay his salary. The municipalities themselves, would pay only $20,000 of this total or 15 cents per resident. The Kawartha Conservation Study Group believes that the price of half a Coca-Cola is a worthwhile first-year investment, if the proposed authority in the future offers to this area what other authorities have offered theirs.

CONCLUSION

The Kawartha Conservation Authority Study Group obviously believes that there are great advantages to our region in establishing a Conservation Authority. If you agree, please contact your municipal representative to advise him of where you stand. The support of all municipalities for positive conservation programs would help maintain the upper Kawartha Region as a clean, interesting and enjoyable place to live.

IN MEMORIAM

SAWYER - In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Wayne, who passed away on Oct. 3, 1972.

Your life was love and labor, Your love for your family was true, You gave your best for all of us, What more could anyone do; No morning dawns, no night returns, But that we think of you, You left us quietly, your thoughts unknown, But you left us with a memory we are proud to own.

Sadly missed by Mom, sisters Rose and Bev and families.
